

AN UNUSUAL SUIT

ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION IN CIRCUIT COURT

Jones Anderson Asking $15,000
Damages From Mrs. Fisher Herring, For Alleged Slander

One of the most unusual cases which has been tried in the Lincoln circuit court in years was in progress Friday at the time the I. J. closed its report for today's paper. It is the $15,000 damage suit of Jones L. Anderson, a Preachersville farmer and storekeeper against his first cousin, Mrs. Fisher Herring, for alleged slander. Mrs. Anderson charges that Mrs. Herring called him a "G-d-thief" and used other epithets to him when he happened to meet her at the stores at Preachersville on August 28th last. A great deal of interest is being aroused in the case, and everyone from that section of this and Garrard counties who can be present, is on hand listening to the proceedings. The jury which is trying the case is composed of Messrs. W. M. Myers, Gus Geisel, J. A. Wallace Farmer, J. D. Long, Thomas Benson, W. M. Murphy, C. Mobley, Ben Lewis and J. W. Coking. Attorneys P. M. McRoberts, of Stanford and L. Walker, of Lancaster, are representing Mr. Anderson, with attorneys K. S. Alcorn, of Stanford and J. E. Robinson, of Lancaster, for Mrs. Herring. In his statement to the jury, Mr. Anderson pleaded mitigating circumstances and justification for the epithets Mrs. Herring used toward Mr. Anderson, which she admits to using; and he also said that they would show that his character had not been damaged in the slightest. Mr. Robinson characterized Anderson as a "Suer from Suersville" in his remarks.

Mr. Anderson was the first witness placed on the stand. He said that he and Fado Parks were preparing to go to Lancaster court when he saw Mrs. Herring and her husband drive up, but he paid little or no attention to them, until he heard Mrs. Herring addressing him, using these words:

"Jones Anderson: I'm talking to you. You are a G-d-thief and I can prove it by everybody in the county. You have stolen enough from me to send you to the penitentiary and I can prove it by Uncle John Anderson." Mr. Anderson said he went into his store, and when he came out again she continued to address him, saying: "All you have got you stole from me. You are a G-d-thief. Why don't you talk? Now go and sue me, you haven't got money enough to bring a suit." Little 12-year-old William Elmore coming up and Mr. Anderson said something to him, he says Mrs. Herring continued: "Now talk to these little scoundrels and the white trash of Preachersville. Now go in there, you

Mr. Anderson testified that he did not say a word to Mrs. Herring during her talk to him and did not once reply to her. He said that his back was toward her when he first heard her talking. He said that such talk had a bad effect on his feelings, and that when he got to Lancaster people began talking to him about it and asking him about it, and saying to him that they didn't know before that he was a "G-d-thief," all of which humiliated him, and as he said, "Of course, made a fellow feel pretty bad." He said the children at school would ask his little daughter about it, too.

Upon cross examination, he said that he and Mrs. Herring had not spoken for years. He admitted that when Mrs. Herring was talking to him, he asked little William Elmore if he had heard her. He said he then went into his store and wrote down what she had said. He denied that he had told the boy to "watch me get $10.00 from her." He said that when he went to Lancaster a little later, he went to Judge Walker's office and talked to him about the matter of a suit, but nothing was decided at that time.

Fado Parks, who was present, and preparing to go to Lancaster with Mr. Anderson, said when she first came to where they were, Mrs. Herring said to him: "Fado, I'm sorry Mr. Thornton went out of the store." Mr. Parks said he asked her why and she said "To keep things from dancing and singing across the street in front of me." Mr. Parks then said that Mrs. Herring then addressed Mr. Anderson as follows:

"Jones Anderson, I'm talking to you, you dirty little coward. I want you to stay off the road when I'm on it." Parks said that Anderson then went into his store, and she said: "You G-d-thief; you stole enough from me to put you in the penitentiary for life and I can prove it by Uncle John Anderson."

Mr. Parks said that he didn't see Anderson doing any singing or dancing; that he never said anything to her; nor did anything to her. Parks said that while Mrs. Herring was talking she was "jumping up and down and slapping her fists" part of the time. He said on cross examination, that he and Anderson went to Judge Walker's office on some other business when they went to Lancaster; that he had heard a good deal of talk about it on the streets of Lancaster. Asked if he remembered about a lawn mower about which Anderson was alleged by the defense to have threatened to sue Mrs. Herring a year or so ago, Parks said he could recall nothing about it. He said that he was friendly toward both sides of this controversy.

Verna Sprinkles, aged 14, testified she heard Mrs. Herring call Mr. Anderson a "thief and a rascal;" and that "if he didn't know it everybody else did." She said Mr. Anderson did not reply to Mrs. Herring.

Ray Sprinkles, aged 10, said he heard Mrs. Herring call Mr. Anderson a "thief" and a "s-o-b." Neither of these children was cross-examined. This closed the case in chief for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Herring On The Stand

Mrs. Herring took the stand. She said her father and Mr. Anderson's father were brothers; and that she had known him from infancy. She owns a farm about 220 acres in the Preachersville section; her father left it to her. Jones Anderson lived on the farm for 10 years, renting it from her. In 1908 he gave the place up. She said she was looking over the place soon afterwards and noticed that a large amount of dressed rock, which had been part of a foundation and a chimney was missing. She had given no one permission to take it. Anderson was then living at Preachersville. She was informed that he had taken the rock. Considerable objection was made by attorneys for the plaintiff over the rock matter; and much testimony concerning it was not allowed to go to the jury. She said that at that time Anderson was threatening her with a law suit; that he had left her place in an unfriendly spirit and had quit speaking to her. She said that he conducted himself toward her in a most insulting and obnoxious manner whenever she would meet him; that when she'd pass him in the road, he'd look her in the eye and then turn his face away with a smirk or snarl; if he should happen to be in a group of men when she came near he would look at her and laugh and conduct himself in such a way that the men would all look at her, and this made her feel ridiculous and humiliated her greatly. Judge Hardin sustained objection to introduction of evidence regarding Anderson's threats to sue her over a lawn mower about two years before.

Coming down to the offense complained of, she said that she drove to Preachersville with her husband, to buy some things for lunch; that her husband then took the buggy and went on to Lancaster, while she started walking back home. When she was in front of Cummins' store she saw from Mr. Anderson's manner that he was trying to annoy her, she testified. She said his manner of looking at her was an insult; she turned her buggy around so that she could not see him; and when she started home she forgot some things she came for, because of her annoyance at Anderson's action. She said:

"He looked at me in a contemptuous way, turned on his heel; with his head up, in the air with a kind of strut, and went up the pike humming and singing."

Mrs. Herring said that she said "There's entirely too much music here to suit me." She said that she had meant when she spoke to Parks about Mr. Thornton that all winter when Mr. Thornton was there she could "go to the store and attend to my business without being disturbed by Jones Anderson." She said that she told Anderson as he went into the store that "I expected him to let me attend to my business in peace."

She said that the language she used toward Anderson was "You are a contemptible coward and a scoundrel;" and she said "I told him to go in his store and not annoy me; to think I have to take the insults of a rascal like you." She said that he would snap his fingers at Parks; she swore that she did not call him a G-d-thief; not using such nor did she call him a "s-o-b." She denied most emphatically that she had used any such language. She said that it had been hard to take insults from Anderson as long as she had; that he had gotten everything he had off her place. She admitted to calling him a "thief" and explained that in doing so she had referred to the fact that she believed he had taken the rock off her place to which he had no right. Mrs. Herring said that before she had rented the place to some one else, Anderson had told her that she had injured his little daughter $10,000. She said that he had lost a race for school trustee in that district and that seemed to be hurting him considerably. She said she did not jump up and down and slap her hands together while she was talking to him at Preachersville, for she had a loaf of bread and other articles in her arms.

On cross examination, she said that she supposed she was there talking to Anderson about 10 minutes. Attorney McRoberts then pulled out his watch and told her to go ahead and repeat over to him and the court just what she had told Anderson. Mrs. Herring did so, but it occupied only four minutes. Mr. McRoberts said: "Quite a number of watches were out timing her recital also, and this caused some recrimination in the courtroom. Mrs. Herring admitted to have been 'very angry' and said she probably repeated some of the things she said. She said she did not call Anderson a 'darn coward,' but used the expression 'darn coward,' and at no time put the name of 'God' before it or any of her remarks. She said she did not mind Anderson being on the road if he could act as a gentleman. She said she couldn't tell Mr. McRoberts what song he was singing or humming; but that 'his manner expressed more insult than words could have; his back was offensive; I hated his manner; not him; no, indeed, I didn't hate him; only his manner at times; in the way he'd try to insult me." Asked just what form his "insults" took, she said: "The fact that he'd walk up the pike in a manner very offensive to any woman; he would look at me and turn up his nose with a sort of smirk, which was more offensive than words."

Mrs. Herring answered all questions in a quiet and well modulated voice; did not become excited and seemed poised and self possessed at all times. Court adjourned for the day after her testimony was concluded.

morning, the first witness put on the stand for the defense was Wesley Blankenship. He said that he heard Mrs. Herring speak to Anderson; he didn't hear any curse words; said that Anderson was humming, etc. He said Anderson's reputation for truth and veracity is varied, and for honesty, very good. He heard her call him a coward and thief and to keep off pike whenever she came along.

William Elmore was the next witness examined. He stated that Mrs. Herring called Mr. Anderson a "durn coward," but no oath. He said that Anderson told him he would get $10,000 dollars out of her for that.

Mrs. Will Cummins was next called to the stand. She stated that she was in her husband's store and heard Mrs. Herring telling Mr. Anderson what he should and shouldn't do, and for him to stay out of her way. She also stated that Mrs. Herring called Anderson a "darn coward, and rascal, and a thief" but used no curse words.

Wm. Dyehouse was next called, and stated that he heard very little of the conversation between the two parties. He said that Mrs. Herring called Anderson a "dirty coward." The witness heard Mrs. Herring tell Anderson he "got his start on her farm; dared him to sue her. Witness stated Anderson was doing and saying nothing unusual.

Bland Ballard stated that Anderson's reputation is more bad than good.

Leslie Anderson, colored, said he worked for Jones Anderson in 1906 and hauled rock for him from an old cabin on Mrs. Herring's farm. He used two teams for four or five days. George Brown said he saw teams hauling rock from old chimney, but did not know whose team they were. Said that the visible part of foundation of Jones Anderson's house is brick.

W. C. Cummins stated that he worked on Anderson's house and said he used rock in under foundations, and small stone pillars and dressed stone. Said that the rock was hauled by Jones' team and Les Anderson; said that the rock was worth $2 a load. On being questioned Mr. Cummins stated that Anderson's reputation was bad, and stated that he could not get along with Jones, due to some family trouble. Witness said that Jones put his note out for collection and mistreated his wife, Cummins' sister.

John Morgan, colored, when called, stated that he lived on the Herring farm in 1906; said some rock were hauled from old chimney to Jones Anderson's house and some of it was hauled to Anderson's barn on the Herring farm.

Jim Anderson, colored, said he saw teams hauling rock, and Anderson told him he wanted to "build a town out of them."

John Cress said Jones Anderson's reputation for truth and veracity is bad. Jim Thompson, Sam Ramsey, and Tom Ballard made same statement.

Ray Dishon said that Anderson's reputation for truth and veracity is bad and that Anderson is dishonest.

BAUGHMAN OUT

WELL KNOWN DEMOCRAT IN RACE FOR SHERIFF

Over 400 Names On Petitions Presented To Him Asking Him To Become Candidate

The Interior Journal is authorized today to announce M. S. Baughman, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Lincoln county subject to the primary in August, 1917. This announcement will be received with pleasure by Mr. Baughman's friends in all sections of the county, and it is expected that they will at once get busy in his behalf, and see that their friends and neighbors understand the importance of electing a man of Baughman's type to the office of sheriff for the next four years.

It was only upon the earnest solicitation of many of his friends that Mr. Baughman decided to again become a candidate. Petitions have been presented to him, signed by over 400 prominent democrats and citizens of all sections of the county urging him to make the race, and pledging him the strongest support that any candidate for an office ever had in Lincoln county before. Friends of Mr. Baughman do not hesitate to say that when he was in charge of the office, eight years ago, which he is now asking to be entrusted with again, he made the best sheriff that Lincoln county ever had. He was a terror of evil doers; saw that the laws were enforced without fear or favor, and was always prompt and faithful in the performance of all duties connected with the office.

Those who know Smith Baughman—and there are few men in this county who do not know him by his first name—know that if he is nominated as the Democratic candidate, he will be elected, and will perform the duties of the office in the same way that he did before, to the complete satisfaction of every law-abiding citizen. Mr. Baughman will not issue a formal card to the voters in making his announcement, but he is willing to stand upon his record as sheriff before, upon his unswerving democracy and upon the loyalty of his friends all over the county who have insisted that he make this race.

While that spent with home enterprises remain here and benefits everyone. The mail order and out-of-town houses never contribute toward public improvements of Stanford in any manner. Keep your money in the town in which you made it.

In this issue of the Interior Journal we present to our readers a number of the reliable firms of Stanford that are deserving of your patronage together with several enterprises and industries that have been, and still are, instrumental in making the town one of the most important and influential in the state, and which are largely responsible for the development and growth of the town in the last few years. Stanford's resources and advantages are shown in a manner that should attract the attention of every reader of this paper. The representation of the retail establishments are not complete, of course, but they give the citizens of Stanford and Lincoln county an idea of the character of stores operated and maintained in their midst. There is no excuse for anyone living in the town or community, to go, or send, outside the confines of Stanford to make their purchases of whatever nature. The goods carried by their home merchants are adequate to care for their needs in all lines, and at prices that are as reasonable as can be obtained of any dealer in the country. Every dollar you spend with your home merchant remains in Stanford and community and directly benefits every citizen, and means greater prosperity and more progress. Keep your money in the town in which you made it. The money you spend with mail order houses is gone forever. PHILLIPS & PHILLIPS

How many readers of the Interior Journal know that the average suit of clothes has one hundred and fifty seven different parts, and the average pair of trousers over sixty processes. The average fabric, even when it is all wool—through and through—can be made into many different grades. Few wearers of clothes realize this fact. They do not stop to question the merit of a garment if it is attractive to the eye and has a good appearance. There is no line of merchandise that depends so greatly on the representation of the dealer as that of clothing. It is, therefore, a most important matter, when buying a suit of clothes, or an overcoat, to deal with a firm whose representations you can depend on. Phillips & Phillips have built up a reputation for fair and honest dealing that is surpassed by no concern in the country. When you buy goods of this firm you can feel that you are getting full value for your money. They are now showing many beautiful styles in the Hart, Schaffner &

Marx clothing and overcoats. They are all nobby designs and the most attractive patterns ever before shown in Stanford. In addition to clothing the firm carries a complete line of furnishings for men and boys. They also sell the famous Queen Quality shoes and Phoenix hose for ladies. In fact, there is nothing in the market superior to this firm's line of goods. The members of the firm are always courteous and obliging and will be glad of the opportunity to extend you every favor possible. See their stock and get their prices before you buy.

NORTHOTT & TUDOR

There are few, if any branches of business that is of greater importance, or means more to the citizens of a town than the dealer in produce and poultry. It is today a big factor in the world of commerce, as well as being a benefactor to hundreds of citizens of the county who have poultry of all kinds to sell, as well as produce of every description. When the firm of Northcott & Tudor, composed of Messrs. H. B. Northcott and T. K. Tudor, began business in Stanford about eight years ago, it was ascertained that the mission of these gentlemen would fill a long-felt want, and today the firm ranks second to few in this section. In addition to buying all the produce and poultry the farmers in Lincoln and adjoining counties have to sell, the firm also deals in coal, hay, feed, salt, etc. They have the agency here for the celebrated Rex coal. The highest prices are always paid for everything in the produce line that the farmer has for sale. The advantage of trading with this firm over the regular commission merchant is that you do not have to wait for the re-

Shipments are made to eastern markets and the money derived from the large volume of business done by this enterprising firm remains in Stanford and directly benefits every citizen. It is the means of circulating many thousands of dollars annually in this community that otherwise would never find their way to Stanford.

Mr. Tudor will begin in a few days killing and dressing turkeys for the northern and eastern markets. Lincoln county fowls are always in demand and they bring good prices. Citizens of Lincoln and adjoining counties who have poultry and produce for sale should bear in mind that they can always find a ready market in the firm of Northcott & Tudor. These gentlemen are thorough and reliable and every representation made by them can be depended on. Their phone number is 153.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

The prosperity of a town is invariably reckoned by its banks, for there is no better index to the stability of a community than to know that a flourishing bank is one of its foremost institutions. Stanford is no exception to the many live, progressive towns of Kentucky, for her citizens can point with pride to the First National Bank.

The history of the First National Bank, and its predecessors, is as follows: The First National Bank was the first bank organized in Lincoln county; was first a Deposit Bank of Stanford, which commenced business September 6th, 1858. On June 2d, 1865 its successor was organized, being the 1204th National Bank in the U. S. and one of the oldest south of the Ohio river and was known as The National Bank of Stanford. It went into voluntary liquidation and was organized as The First National Bank of Stanford. It will thus be seen that the above named bank, and its two predecessors, have had an uninterrupted existence for 58 years. The First National Bank is now in its 35th year, during which time it has paid the princely sum of $237,000, and added to the surplus fund, $28,500. This bank can certainly point with pride to its old and successful career, as it has passed through, in its existence, many panics and financial storms, and today asks the public patronage on its record and merits.

The State Bank & Trust Company, of Stanford, having a capital of $50,000, which formerly did a good business in the town of Stanford, and being desirous of going out on the banking business on Sept. 8, 1915, turned over all its assets, of all kinds, including its deposits and good will, to The First National Bank, of Stanford, and by and through its special deputy bank commissioner, H. C. Baughman, the resources of said State Bank & Trust Company, are now being rapidly collected and disbursed to the stockholders, to their entire satisfaction, their depositors long since having been paid off.

This bank has a capital of $50,000, surplus fund $28,500 and deposits of $250,000.

This is one of the strongest and oldest banking corporations in the State and warrants careful consideration of all business men or others seeking a dependable institution of this character, where all modern facilities are employed. It is one of the few institutions of the kind that you can feel perfectly safe about, when your funds are deposited here. The officers and directors are Lincoln county men and are known throughout this section for their strict integrity, high sense of honor and possessing marked business ability. They are identified with the town's interest in every way, having their growth and advancement at heart. Citizens of Stanford and Lincoln county may well feel exceedingly proud of this banking firm for it is all that could be demanded of a modern banking house. Burglar and fire-proof safes are used. A saving department is conducted in connection with the bank and a large number of people are patronizing it. The bank pays three per cent. on savings accounts. Following are the officers: J. S. Hocker, president; S. T. Harris, vice president and H. C. Baughman, cashier.

W. K. WARNER

There are not many people in town who have water on their premises that are getting the benefit of this luxury. They are content to have water in one or two places and carry it from cellar to garret, not stopping long enough to realize that for a nominal sum they can have it piped throughout the house. It is a case of not taking advantage of the supply. Stanford has a heating and plumbing contractor who is reliable and competent to do this work in the most skilled and approved manner, as well as observing all sanitary methods known to modern plumbing. Steam and hot water heating. References are made to Mr. W. K. Warner. His establishment is thoroughly equipped. Besides being an experienced plumber, plumbing contractor and engineer of hot water heating, he is aided by a corps of assistants who are also skilled in the installation of all kinds of plumbing. Mr. Warner also conducts a tinning department and is prepared to render the best service in this line of work, as well. He will contract to extend your piping to any part of the house, or premises, in a surprisingly quick time, and at a reasonable charge. If you will confer with him he will figure the cost to you guaranteeing every foot of the work. A complete line of bathroom fixtures is carried in stock at all times. He will also contract with parties living in the country to pipe water from a well or spring to the house, thus giving them the same luxury as those living in town. He is recommended to the Interior Journal readers as being reliable and accommodating.

LINCOLN COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

There is no institution, or business enterprise, that is recognized as being so indispensable to the citizens of a town and community, as a well conducted and accommodating banking house. Stanford is not behind the towns of the State in possessing a bank that is thoroughly reliable and capable of taking care of the needs of her citizens at all times. This banking house is the Lincoln County National Bank, with a capital of $100,000; surplus $50,100; deposits of $325,000 and resources of $585,000, thus assuring its depositors the very best and safest protection. It was among the first banks to be established in this county and has grown with the town and community. The personnel of its officers is the best, while by their business training and fair business dealings have won the confidence of those seeking a modern and dependable banking concern. This bank has never failed to pay its annual dividends. You can always depend on receiving the most courteous treatment at the hands of the officers of this bank. It is thoroughly reliable and no safer institution could be found in which to deposit your funds. The most modern and approved methods are employed by this bank in the transaction of its business. The officers are men of experience and integrity, and are well and favorably known to the town and county. This bank solicits your business, promising you at all times every accommodation possible and a service unexcelled in banking. Mr. W. H. Shanks, is president and Mr. W. M. Bright, cashier. An institution of this kind is an asset to the business and financial life of any town and deserves the patronage of the citizens of Stanford and Lincoln county.

STANFORD'S STOCK YARDS.

The Nunneley Stock Yards is a potent factor in the industrial life, of Stanford, and there are few enterprises that can approach it in importance and the immense volume of business it transacts annually. Established eight years ago by Mr. A. T. Nunneley, its influence and scope of usefulness has increased with the passing years, until today it is known throughout the entire State and is now the third largest stock yard in Kentucky. The capacity of the yards is from 1,500 to 2,000 head of cattle, besides being equipped for handling hogs, sheep, horses and mules.

The number of cattle handled annually will reach the enormous figures of between 8,000 to 10,000 while hundreds of head of horses, sheep, and hogs are also bought and sold through this enterprise. Lincoln is one of the foremost counties of the State in live stock raising, and these yards not only enable stock raisers of the county to find a ready purchaser for their stock, but hundreds of head from other counties are shipped, and driven into Stanford and placed in these yards, where they are purchased by buyers from all sections of Kentucky.

A notable feature of this business is that it has the reputation of securing the highest prices for live stock of any yards in the country. And it is fully merited, for those who offer their stock for sale through the Nunneley Stock Yards are never disappointed but realize the highest prices. This enterprise has meant untold worth to Stanford for its sales will reach the fabulous figures of over $225,000 annually. The yards are now managed and conducted by Mr. T. W. Jones, lessee, who is an expert live stock man, and who is known the country over for his fair and square dealings with his patrons. A nominal sum of 10 cents per head is charged for lotting and sheltering cattle.

On court days in Stanford may be seen hundreds of head of cattle, besides horses and other live stock which are brought here to be marketed. Buyers in all parts of the country know that the character of live stock offered for sale here is among the best in the country to be had. There is always a good demand for stock offered for sale through these yards.

Mr. Jones is also a partner in the firm of Jones & Cress, dealers in, and buyers of, live stock of all kinds. The firm is composed of Mr. J. M. Cress and T. W. Jones. They also maintain offices in Stanford.

USED FOR 50 YEARS SUCCESSFULLY

M'ROBERTS & BAILEY

Men who wear clothes—and there are thousands of them—and who appreciate style and quality, especially when these two essential features are not figured in the cost, have found that there is one store in Stanford where they can get the very latest styles, most approved patterns and the noblest designs; goods that are dependable and have that distinctive air and individuality about them that you seldom get in the ready-to-wear garments. That store is McRoberts & Bailey, the home of Adler's Collegian brand clothes. Nettleton and Walkover shoes for ladies and gentlemen, together with one of the most attractive and complete lines of furnishings carried by any house in this section. This is one of the town's most aggressive and dependable firms, for every representation made you can be fully depended on. The proprietors are merchants of long experience and know what merchandise is, and when they offer their goods to a customer it is with the satisfaction that they are giving him the best in the market for the money. You will always get value received for every dollar you pay McRoberts & Bailey. There is great satisfaction in dealing with a firm of the reputation of this one, and the trade is not slow to appreciate the high quality of goods handled by them. Their customers are numbered among the most exclusive dressers of Stanford and community. Their establishment is modern and stocked with the highest quality of goods in the market. An inspection of the varied lines will convince you that you could not do better than to patronize this store.

THE PENNY DRUG STORE

Standing out prominently in the drug trade and numbered among the town's most reliable retail firms, is The Penny Drug Store, an excellent example and the proprietor, Mr. E. R. Coleman. The store was organized and operated by the Messrs. Penny for years and has always been recognized as headquarters for drugs, chemicals, proprietary remedies as well as stationery, school supplies, leather goods, sporting goods, toilet articles, etc. In fact, everything usually found in an up-to-date establishment of this kind. To be abreast of the times in the advancement of the profession, has been the aim and desire of Mr. Coleman since he assumed proprietorship, and no matter what new drug or medicine is introduced in the market it can invariably be found here as quickly as in the large cities. The line of toilet articles embraces the largest and best assortment in this section of the State, such as Colgate's, Richard Hudnott, Palmer, Violet Dulce, New England, Mary Garden line and many others of equal reputation. Mr. Coleman has the agency in Stanford for the famous Nunnally box candies, which are received fresh weekly. A specialty of Mr. Coleman is the care given to compounding prescriptions. He is a registered pharmacist and devotes his personal attention to this department, and there is never a doubt in the minds of those who patronize The Penny Drug Store but that they will get the purest and freshest drugs and their physician's instructions carefully guarded. There are few men in the community who have the confidence of the citizens more than Mr. Coleman, and The Interior Journal takes pleasure in calling the attention of its readers especially to this store.

J. H. BAUGHMAN & COMPANY

There is probably no enterprise in Stanford that is more generally appreciated than is the establishment of J. H. Baughman & Co., manufacturers of flour, meal, feed stuffs, and also dealers in coal and building material. The excellence of the products of this mill has gained for the proprietors widespread favor among those who appreciate the highest quality in flour and meal. The plant itself is one of the most modern in operation in this section of the State, all the newest and most improved machinery being used to manufacture the extra high grades that are daily marketed. It can be truthfully said that the flours of this company are pure, wholesome and delicious, possessing that sweet, nutty flavor, seldom found in even the highest priced and nationally advertised brands. The products are made from the best wheat it is possible to obtain in a thoroughly equipped establishment. The proprietors have spared no effort to forestall nor forested, establishment out with the kind of machinery that produces the best results, hence the quality of goods marketed rank second to none in the State. The management is exceedingly proud of the prestige its brands have gained, and it will may be, for they meet the demands of consumer in such satisfying manner that whenever once used become staple articles of food in the home afterwards. The leading brand "Fancy Patent No. 1," is claimed to have no superior anywhere. The Interior Journal takes pleasure in adding its testimonial to the goods offered the public through this enterprising home concern. Housewives should insist upon Stanford-made flour and meal, thus giving their patronage to a home firm which spends its money for Lincoln county wheat. The company is always in the market for wheat and corn, paying the highest market prices.

J. L. BEAZLEY

In all professions science has made wonderful progress within the last decade. In this day and time the possibilities of mankind are hard to reckon, or limit. Many things are being accomplished daily that would have been considered impossibilities in the time of our forefathers. No advancement of professional men has been of greater worth to civilization than that of the undertaker and embalmer. The licensed graduate embalmer is as necessary and as much sought in the present century as is the physician, lawyer or dentist. His skill and knowledge are necessary factors in the human family today, for no one cares to employ the services of an unskilled funeral director and embalmer.

Stanford has a citizen who is thoroughly proficient in his chosen profession. Reference is made to Mr. J. L. Beazley, Stanford's capable and efficient undertaker and embalmer. There is not a more reliable, nor skilled embalmer to be found in the country than Mr. Beazley. He operates his own funeral equipment which is considered to be one of the handiest and most complete in this section of the State. The Interior Journal can attest to his worth as a citizen and business man, and his reliability is never questioned by those who know him.

His office and show rooms are in the St. Asaph block. Office phone 42; residence phone 32.

Geo. T. Wood, Prop., Stanford, Ky.

What would he give for the coffee you serve?

Like a million other women, you can serve coffee that he would give most anything to have—coffee which starts the day "right" for all.

Everyone loves the rich flavor of Arbuckles' Coffee. Of all the coffees in America today, it is by far the most popular!

One woman says: "My husband used to swallow his coffee and hurry off. Now we have Arbuckles' and you'd think it was Sunday the way he lingers over his breakfast."

Until you try Arbuckles' you will never know what a difference good coffee can make in your home.

Today there are whole towns where Arbuckles is practically the only coffee used. In one State, alone, in a year, four pounds of Arbuckles' Coffee was used for every man, woman and child in the State—four times as many pounds of coffee as the population of the State! Arbuckle Bros., New York.

LINCOLN PHARMACY

Members of the medical profession are quick to realize the necessity of pure drugs, and care in compounding prescriptions. No matter how careful a physician may be in the treatment of his patients, he cannot successfully guide them back to health if the remedies prescribed are lacking in medicinal value. This is the reason why the Lincoln Pharmacy, of which Mr. J. W. Acey, is proprietor, has gained and maintained such a high standard in Stanford and Lincoln county as pharmacists. Mr. Acey has connected with him Dr. W. N. Craig, who is a graduate and registered pharmacist, efficient, painstaking and skillful, following with the greatest care the instructions on each and every prescription, using only the best and freshest drugs. This is one of the oldest and most dependable drug concerns in the country. It was established years ago, and was popular with the trade then, and is popular today. The business that has been established is a credit to the town as well as the proprietor. Mr. Acey is winning new customers daily by pleasing the old ones, and it is being done along the lines of courteous treatment to his patrons and carrying such a complete line of drugs and kindred lines that no one feels it necessary to go or send elsewhere for anything usually sold in a modern drug store. The stock embraces everything the trade would wish, or need, including a select line of toilet articles, stationery, school supplies, proprietary remedies. This store has the agency in Lincoln county for the sale of the famous Dakota Jack's medicine; also Lowmy's candies and Miss Holladay's of Paris, home made candies. The Lincoln Pharmacy is recommended to readers of this paper.

W. H. HIGGINS

W. H. Higgins, dealer in all kinds of hardware, farm implements, vehicles, roofing, etc., is one of the most popular merchants in Stanford, and his business career here has been a successful one, for he carries at all times the best stock of goods it is possible to secure and his patrons get the benefit of his long experience in selecting goods and obtaining the lowest prices from the manufacturer. "If it's hardware that wears, and at prices that will bring you back" then there is a reason why the citizens of Stanford and Lincoln county have selected this store as their favorite when shopping. Everything under the head of light and heavy hardware, cutlery, harness, stoves, ranges, oil heaters and cookers, tinware, kitchen utensils, etc., is included in the large and up-to-date stock. Mr. Higgins has the agency in Lincoln county for the sale of the Oliver Plow, Owensboro wagons, Deering machines, buggies, etc.

You will find it is a source of pleasure to deal with this reliable merchant, who is ever ready to do all in his power to please his customers, who are numbered among the most prominent and particular citizens of the county. If you are not already a customer of this store you will find that it will pay you to become one. The courteous manner and straight forward dealings of Mr. Higgins has won for him the high regard of all who have traded with him. The Interior Journal takes pleasure in recommending him to its readers.

W. H. MUELLER

A modern and up-to-date jewelry store where a complete stock of everything in this line can be found, is one of the greatest conveniences of any community, as well as being a most essential asset to the town's enterprises. Stanford possesses one of this character for there are few towns in the state the size of this one that has a more desirable establishment of this kind than the readers of the Interior Journal will find in the one owned and conducted by Mr. W. H. Mueller. There is scarcely anything in the jewelry line, as well as silver ware, cut glass, china ware, etc. that cannot be supplied by this enterprising merchant. The stock is well selected and comprises the very latest in jewelry of all kinds, as well as watches, clocks, diamonds, etc.

Since Mr. Mueller began business in Stanford over 15 years ago he has built up a trade that ranks among the first of the town. Citizens of Stanford and Lincoln county never find it necessary to send or go to larger cities to make their purchases, for the beautiful stock carried by Mr. Mueller is adequate to meet the demands of even the most discriminating buyer, while his prices are as reasonable as can be obtained of any firm in the business. Stanford people should lend their support to a business of this character for it is deserving of their trade.

Mr. Mueller is one of the substantial business men of Stanford and is thoroughly reliable in all his dealings. As Christmas is approaching it would be well to visit his store before looking elsewhere as his prices are right and his goods of high quality.

WOOD'S MEAT MARKET

A first class meat market, where fresh and wholesome meats are always kept on hand, is indeed a convenience and blessing to any community. Meat is one of the chief articles of food, therefore, we should use only the freshest and best by patronizing an establishment where cleanliness is strictly observed. In this connection The Interior Journal presents to its readers the new and sanitary market owned and conducted by Mr. George T. Wood. Stanford needed a market of this character and the citizens of the town and community should encourage him in his efforts to supply them with the best and freshest meats as well as poultry, sea fish, etc. This store is up-to-date and modernly appointed and contains a desirable line of everything needed or desired in the line of fresh and cured meats, sausages, lard, etc., as well as fancy groceries and table delicacies, cereals, canned goods.

Mr. Woods is an expert meat merchant of wide experience and has already won a substantial patronage among the best and most exacting people of the town. He is ranked among the town's aggressive business men who is reliable and courteous and ready at all times to favor those who are his daily patrons.

If you want something extra fine in the way of a roast or steak, you will be sure of getting it if it comes from Wood's sanitary meat market.

GEORGE H. FARRIS

One of the most prominent retail establishments, and one that is known throughout this and the adjoining counties, is the store of Mr. George H. Farris, dealer in hardware, groceries of all kinds, stoves, ranges, refrigerators, queensware, cooking utensils, etc. Mr. Farris is one of the most enterprising citizens of the town, and a factor in her mercantile affairs. And there are few men who have a larger circle of friends and acquaintances or who adhere more strictly to the slogan, "Courteous treatment and fair dealings toward all." He is an aggressive merchant who keeps his stock right up to the minute, and is daily adding new customers to his list by pleasing the old ones. When you need anything in the line of groceries you will find the stock carried by Mr. Farris to be fresh and desirable while his varied stock of hardware, harness, guns, ammunition, etc., is adequate to meet the demands of all.

An establishment of this kind is a credit to the town. Mr. Farris is commended to readers of this paper; you will find him upright and honorable in all his dealings, as well as being courteous and obliging to his many customers who trade with him in preference to anyone else.

H. C. ANDERSON'S GARAGE

It is a most important matter with car owners to place their cars in competent hands—with men you know to be responsible and capable, for there are numerous garages and service stations in the country, but not all able to give you the service you have a right to expect in return for your money. The Anderson Garage, of which Mr. H. C. Anderson, is proprietor, is one of the best in the country. You can always feel perfectly safe when your car is stored here, for it will receive next care and attention that you yourself would give it. It is a model establishment in every sense of the word, and one that has met with favor among the large number you patronize it to the exclusion of others. It is also the Ford service station, as Mr. Anderson has the agency in Lincoln county for that well known car—that universal car—universally popular and universally used. There are more Fords in use today than all other machines combined. There must be a reason. The Ford is the most desirable of all cars, for its superior workmanship has put it in the lead. It is the most economic car, as well; economic in upkeep and use of gasoline.

You could not find a more reliable garage in the section than the Anderson Garage nor a more courteous gentleman with whom to deal, than Mr. Anderson. The large number of people who patronize him is evidence of the excellent service they get at his hands. On account of the increase in his business, he has found it necessary to enlarge his present quarters, and will begin at once rebuilding. The floor space will be tripled, and a show room added.

Had Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

Dear Mr. Editor—I want to write you about "Anuric." I was very sick, could hardly be up; I was in bed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to scream sometimes when I was sitting down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets so I thought I would try them. I took only one box of the Tablets, and my back is now free from pain and I can work and take care of my family. I feel I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, Mrs. Wm. Keller.

NOTE: This "Anuric" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Great Institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been with one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases absolutely curing the diseased kidneys. Patients having once used "Anuric" at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, have repeatedly sent back for more. Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce has decided to put "Anuric" in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send one line by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood cleanser and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to make rich, red blood, which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. You feel clean, strong and strenuous.

EATING MUCH NO SIGN OF HEALTH

Tanlac Man Says Many Not Benefited By Food.

POOR DIGESTION THE CAUSE

Declares That Much Misery Is Due to Ignoring Warning Symptoms and Tells of the Success of Tanlac in Many Severe and Long Standing Troubles.

Many persons might as well not eat for all the benefit they derive from their food. They can eat plenty of almost anything, but no nutritive effects show in their bodies. They remain, according to the Tanlac Man, the same stomach worried, puny and, apparently, unfed individuals.

"We eat," he said, "to supply the body with the vitality it has lost in the expenditure of energy. When that vitality has not been restored we become weary, feel distressed, lose ambition and lack interest in what we have to do.

Nature's Warning. "This shows something is wrong. In most cases the fault is an unhealthy stomach and an upset condition of the digestive tract. Stomach distress is a warning to remedy conditions before we are overtaken by more serious ills.

"Yet that tired, draggy, just-half sick feeling may be the indication of an ailment that will result in a lifetime of suffering. Many persons month after month, have permitted these unpleasant feelings to pass without attention, only to find themselves in after years afflicted with health worries that might have been prevented.

Secret of Success. "Tanlac goes to the root of most physical worries. The proper assimilation of food is everything to the preservation of health. If the nourishing qualities of food are not carried by the blood into every part of the body there can be no good health. Herein lies the secret of Tanlac's success. It assists in proper digestion and assimilation, which is fundamental in maintaining a healthy body."

Tanlac is sold exclusively in Stanford at The Penny Drug Store, E. R. Coleman, proprietor.

Tanlac can now be obtained in following nearby cities: Moreland, Abraham Minks; Hustonville, Adams Bros.; McKinney, True & Co.; Ellisburg, W. C. Bryant; Crab Orchard, Lyne Bros.; Broadhead, John Robbins; Lancaster, R. E. McRoberts; Bee Lick, J. Reynolds & Son; Waynesburg, W. A. Horton.

which will accommodate six or more cars. A rest room for lady tourists will be another attractive feature of the new building.

J. A. ALLEN

One of the most important factors in the industrial life of a town or community is the manufacturer and leader of lumber. No town or section is progressive unless it maintains an enterprise of this character where all grades of lumber, as well as special mill work, can be had on short notice. No plant is better equipped to take care of the needs of the home-builder than Mr. J. A. Allen. Mr. Allen is an experienced lumber merchant who has given the business his careful study and attention, and there is nothing in his line that can be used in the erection of a home, or building that his establishment is unable to supply, including roofing, paints, doors, mantles, builders hardware, etc. The proprietor is thoroughly reliable in every way and gives you the service you naturally expect when dealing with a man in this line of business. His enterprise has forged ahead until today it is rated second to none in reliability and importance in Lincoln county. Every facility is employed to get out orders in the shortest time possible, and it may be added that there is no concern in the State that supplies a better grade of building material than does this one. Many of the handsome homes in and around Stanford have been built by Mr. Allen. If you are contemplating building, consult him and get his estimate on all kinds of building material and lumber. He is also a building contractor of years experience. He is recommended to readers of this paper.

JESSE D. WEAREN

The Insurance Man

Preparedness is the all-absorbing topic, and there was never a question proposed of greater moment. Preparedness in all things, but least among the number, preparedness in case of death and fire. The former is sure to come and the latter a possibility at any hour. To be prepared is to be insured. When you think of insurance of whatever nature—life, fire, hail, tornado, live stock, etc., think of Jesse D. Wearen, the insurance man, who is possibly insuring more people against all classes of loss than any other agent in this section. His list of insurance companies embrace some of the oldest and most reliable, among the number might be mentioned the Insurance Company of North America, the oldest American Company born with the Republic. Mr. Wearen has made an enviable record for himself in quick and satisfactory settlement of losses.

No man has a right to live this life without carrying insurance to be paid those dependent upon him, when he is gone, and no business man can afford not to carry insurance on his tobacco and live stock against hail and other destructive forces that cannot be forestalled nor forecasted. Be prepared and when death comes, those you leave behind will be protected; if your crops are destroyed, you are not the loser.

Think this over, and then see Mr. Wearen and have him write the kind of policy that will give you the best protection.

McKINNEY

McKinney, the thriving and inviting town on the Q. & C. branch of the C. N. O. & T. P. railway, located 15 miles south of Danville and 9 miles west of Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln, is destined to become one of great importance, for it has all the advantages of any other town and a few of its own. There is no better agricultural section of the state than that surrounding McKinney, which timber abounds in large quantities. Mineral waters of the most desirable character are supplied by nature to all sufferers with any malady that nature can cure through her health giving waters. The town of McKinney is most desirably located and when her opportunities are made known she will take on new life and become a greater factor among the towns of Kentucky, for she has every advantage and offers all the opportunities.

Among the enterprises that would unquestionably pay in McKinney might be mentioned: a harness and saddle business, a furniture manufacturing plant, a loose leaf tobacco warehouse, a cigar manufactory, woolen mill, lumber and planing mill, ice plant, etc. A hotel is also badly needed, and would be a fine investment on the part of some enterprising man who understands the business. The town offers the most liberal proposition to a man who will establish a hotel here.

Sheep in the section of McKinney are plentiful, therefore a woolen mill would prove a profitable investment. Timber abounds in large quantities and will guarantee the continuous operation of furniture plants as well as lumber and planing mill, for a long time to come. The farmers in the neighborhood of McKinney are now devoting a great deal of their time to the culture of tobacco, and the nearest market is Danville, 15 distant.

Oil has been discovered in the town and is now being developed, and it is believed that it will produce vast wealth to those interested, as well as giving new life to the town and introducing her to the world as she has never before been known.

No one could find a better town in which to engage in business pursuits than McKinney, and certainly no healthier location could be selected in the State than this one. The town now has 7 stores, a big flour and meal mill and a garage besides other enterprises.

McKinney citizens invite you to come and cast your lot with them. They are enterprising, aggressive and believe in the future of their town.

Investigate the opportunities offered in McKinney before you decide to settle elsewhere.

McKINNEY DEPOSIT BANK

An institution that is of inestimable worth to the citizens of McKinney and the surrounding sections, is the McKinney Deposit Bank, which is serving its patrons faithfully and satisfactorily. Established in the year 1905 it has shown a remarkable growth and development, for an institution of this character was badly needed in the McKinney community, and it therefore filled a long felt want and is receiving the support of every business man, and others who have occasion from time to time, to patronize a banking institution. The present cashier, Mr. Cleo Thomas was elected cashier in February of the present year and is giving such universal satisfaction that the deposits of the bank have largely increased under his administration. Mr. Thomas is an affable, genial gentleman who understands the art of making and holding friends and his popularity has been the means of adding many new depositors as well as friends to the bank. The capital of this bank is $15,000 and surplus, $2,200. The deposits have more than doubled in the last nine months, which is a splendid showing and reflects credit on Cashier Thomas. Burglar and fire-proof safes are used. Safety lock boxes are rented for a reasonable sum. This bank pays interest on time deposits. Ask, or write Mr. Thomas, for information regarding this feature of the business. E. J. Tanner is president and F. M. Ware, vice president.

F. M. WARE

With a successful business record of 40 years to his credit, Mr. F. M. Ware, McKinney's oldest merchant, is still one of the substantial business men of the town and is ready at all times to do his share toward promoting interest of McKinney and community. The subject of this sketch began his business career in McKinney when a comparatively young man, and by close application to his affairs he has succeeded beyond the expectations of those who welcomed him then, as a citizen of the town. Mr. Ware made friends; he stocked his store with such a desirable line of goods that he soon had a most flattering trade. And the people who traded with him in years gone by are still his patrons, for they have found that the quality of goods bought of him could not be better, while his prices were always as reasonable as possible. A notable feature connected with this enterprising merchant is that he is only man living in the town today who was a citizen of McKinney when he first moved there. New and younger men have come in and taken the places of the older citizens, but Mr. Ware has remained on; he has shown himself equal to the occasion of coping with those of 40 years ago and the enterprising ones of today. His present stock of goods is complete and varied, comprising as it does dry goods, notions, groceries, clothing, boots, shoes, hats, caps, tinware, hardware, harness, etc.

Mr. Ware is also a farmer, owning

TURNERSVILLE

TURNERSVILLE SUPPLY CO.

The store owned and operated by the Turnersville Supply Co., which is located five miles west of Stanford on the McKinney pike and at the forks of the roads leading to Hustonville and McKinney, is one of the most complete of its kind in the country, for it is stocked with one of most varied and up-to-date lines of goods you will find in any town, and in some cities. The stock is so varied and desirable that the citizens in that section of the county do not find it necessary to send, or go elsewhere, to do their shopping for this store carries the goods, and at the right prices. The stock embraces almost everything one could wish in dry goods, notions, as well as shoes for men and women; groceries, hardware, glassware, harness, etc. In fact, there is scarcely an item that you could need or expect to find in a big city store of this character that you will be unable to get from the Turnersville Supply Co. The firm does a big business in produce line, also, buying all the produce as well as poultry from the citizens of the community, paying the highest price. The officers of this big business, and one that is a credit to the community as well as to the enterprise of the men who planned it out and are responsible for its establishment and conduct are J. B. Bradshaw, secretary and treasurer, J. N. Cash, president, Jno. M. Carter, vice-president, A. R. Spears, second vice-president. The management of the affairs of the company is in the hands of Mr. Bradshaw, and while a young man, yet he is one of the most experienced and aggressive merchants in Lincoln county. The firm is one of the most reliable and dependable in Lincoln, and deserves the success it has attained in the short time the business has been established.

The Louisville Times, always an ardent advocate of whisky, came out Thursday in favor of submitting the question of state wide prohibition to a vote of the people; also that of woman suffrage. The Times says that there are overwhelming evidences that the people desire to vote upon these two questions. Of course there are, and have been for some time, as we have repeatedly argued, but the Times seems somewhat tardy in ascertaining this sentiment. If Gov. Stanley is committed to the blunder of a special session of the legislature to "reform" the taxing laws of the state, the Times' suggestion that the call include the submission of the state wide and suffrage amendments, too, is a good one.

3 Drops in 2 Seconds. That's All. "GETS-IT" Does the Rest. Never Fails.

"Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can find to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes up with bandages into a package that fills their shoes full of feet and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use salves that eat right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use plasters that make the corns bulge, or pick and gouge at their corns and make the toes bleed. Funny, isn't it? "GETS-IT" is the simple, modern wonder for corns. Just put 3 drops on. It dries instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn, callus or wart loosens and comes off. Millions use nothing else. Hope Almost Abandoned When She Found Remedy

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin
RELIEVES CHRONIC CASE OF LONG STANDING.

After a long period of suffering with liver and bowel trouble that brought on piles, during which she tried many remedies without obtaining relief, Mrs. Mary J. Jewell, of Berrien Springs, Mich., heard of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and obtained a bottle from her druggist. This simple, inexpensive laxative compound brought almost immediate relief and Mrs. Jewell wrote to Dr. Caldwell about her case.

In her letter Mr. Jewell says: "I had tried so many things for the piles without being helped at all. I had about given up hope of ever being any better. I knew it was the condition of my bowels that caused them and after I had taken a bottle of your Syrup Pepsin I knew it was just the medicine I needed. I am very grateful to you for sending me the little book—the advice and instructions it gives would teach anyone how to get well and how to keep well."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, free from opiate or narcotic drugs, and is mild and gentle in its action, bringing relief in an easy, natural way, without griping, or other pain or discomfort.

Druggists everywhere sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure you get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a facsimile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Robinson's Moreland.

On Hallow'en evening, Class No. 4, of the Moreland Christian Sunday School, was entertained by their teacher, Mrs. B. P. Shewmaker. The house was beautifully decorated, the dining room being especially attractive. The table had as a centerpiece, a large pumpkin, which was surrounded by a circle of autumn leaves. The rest of the rooms were a perfect bower of autumn leaves and golden rods. A delicious supper was served, consisting of oysters, cheese, pickles, crackers, coffee and salads, followed by cakes and ices. After supper fortunes were told, an excellent fortune teller having been secured for the occasion. A very strange thing happened during the fortune telling. It was Miss Virginia Dinwiddie's turn and the prediction of her future was progressing beautifully when a knock was heard at the door. Need the writer state that the visitor was Mr. John Kilgallon. Mr. J. E. Whiteneck also considered himself a member of the girl's class for the evening. Misses Mabel McClure, Onetta and Minelle Pruitt furnished some music, but the most attractive feature in the music was a duet by Messrs. B. P. Shewmaker and J. E. Whiteneck, which was a pleasant surprise even to the members of the class. The music was followed by a candy pulling, the candy being made by Moreland's famous candy maker, Miss Mabel McClure. The class as well as the two visitors voted the affair a great success and Mrs. Shewmaker the jolliest hostess and the best Sunday School teacher to be had.

The Teachers' Association of Division No. 4, met at the Bellevue School Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4th, and a very pleasing and instructive program was carried out. Prof. Moser, the chairman in a very capable manner introduced the speakers. At first "America" was very enthusiastically sung, then Rev. Hankenbury, the new pastor of the Methodist church conducted the devotional exercises in such a manner that all were benefited to a high degree, then Prof. Moser gave a hearty welcome to the visitors on behalf of the Moreland people and was responded to by Mr. Reeves, who made excellent remarks.

The first subject, "Discipline and Order," was to have been discussed by Miss Sadie Baughman and owing to the fact that she had to be absent Miss Mabel McClure read a splendid paper on the subject that Miss Baughman had so graciously prepared. This is a very important subject and was well treated. Prof. Robinson gave a special talk on "The Educative Value of Play." It showed that a great deal can be taught in the games and the teacher's place is on the play ground doing his instructive work as well as it is in the school room. The point that such games as playing "jail" was shown to have a tendency to lower the child's ideals and to be degrading. The teacher should be an athlete and instruct and take part in the games at all times. "How to Teach Physiology" was next discussed by Mr. Hopkins. He showed that the adopted text book is different in the instruction of anatomy, but well takes up hygiene. An important point that was brought out was that the school room should be kept in a sanitary and healthful condition and try to cultivate a taste in the children for cleanliness everywhere.

The last and most important subject that was discussed was "How to Teach Agriculture and its Value," by Prof. S. S. Robinson. He started out by saying that the farmers are to feed the world and that something will have to be done to reap better results from their labor. If it cannot be done in the schools the farmers should organize a farmers club and have a scientific way of teaching the subject and these things studied: First—Analysis of soil; Second—Selection of seed; Third—Germination of seeds; Fourth—Rotation of crops; Fifth—Proper raising of stock. Most of the country schoolteachers are incompetent to teach agriculture if they had the means to do with. The subject is hard to teach if some scientific device is not provided for. The organization of farm clubs and corn contests are very valuable. His address was well made and enjoyed by all. The last thing on the program was a song "Stand Up For Jesus." The teachers present were: Misses Elizabeth Peavyhouse, Stella Peck, Mamie Yancie, Mabel McClure, Mary Peavyhouse and Miss Foley and Prof. S. S. Robinson, Jack Reeves, R. H. Hopkins, Russell Thompson, W. B. Moser. A number of enthusiastic patrons were present and altogether had a great meeting.

Mr. Russell Thompson, of Kings Mountain was the week end guest of Prof. Moser.

Miss Marvelins Tucker has been absent from school for several days on account of illness of her mother. She is improving at present, all will be glad to know.

The children have been practising this week on an entertainment that is to be given at the Methodist church Sunday evening. It is under the auspices of the "Missionary Band" and will be a desirable entertainment to attend. Everyone is invited.

A quiet and odd way has been taken up by the larger pupils to secure a clock for their room. They soon sold ten dollars worth of "Lee's Manufacturing goods" and will get a beautiful eight day clock as a premium. Many devices are used when children are enthusiastic and want an attractive and up-to-date school room.

Little Grace Messer is very ill at her home on the Stanford pike with pneumonia. We have much hope for her speedy recovery.

Some one had a little fun Hallow'en night, when they broke in the school house and moved things about somewhat and we hope that they enjoyed themselves.

Middleburg

Forest fires raged on the knob north of Liberty last week, and did great damage to the forest. The rain came Thursday and put a quietus on the flames greatly to the relief of those living within their path.

Doubtless Hughes now feels like the dog that dropped the substance and snapped at the shadow. Anyway he does not seem to have realized that a "bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." Some men will learn by experience only and Hughes has shown very clearly that he is one of that class.

Roosevelt in one of his tirades during the campaign is reported to have said that he delighted in taking part in a funeral, but not as the corpse. There seems to be a double funeral on hand now, and if Teddy Roosevelt and Charles Eason Hughes are not the corpses then we are woefully mistaken.

The early reports of the election were not of a nature to exhilarate Democrats, and the Republican were feeling just as uncomfortable as possible, but our time came by and by, and we realize the truthfulness of the old adage that "he laughs best who laughs last."

W. F. Martin whose illness we mentioned in these columns some weeks since died Thursday morning at an early hour. The burial took place Friday afternoon in the family burying ground after funeral services by Rev. Bagby, pastor of the Methodist church here. Deceased was about 55 years of age. A member of the Baptist church and had done service for the United States in the Philippines. He leaves besides a wife, two sisters, and other relatives to mourn his loss. Lucien Young has bought of S. J. Elliott the cottage opposite the mill, and Mr. Elliott bought Mrs. Belle Lawhorn's property at Yosemite, including her stock of goods. This is the prettiest business location in that town and it is understood Mr. Elliott paid $2,000 for the lot, aside from the stock of goods. Mrs. Lawhorn has not decided fully what she will do, but will likely move to Somerset, where her son, Jason Lawhorn is in business. Mrs. Lawhorn has been a familiar figure at Yosemite, having done a profitable mercantile business there for more than 20 years, and has many friends who regret to see her and Miss Bessie leave.

CRAB ORCHARD

One of Pioneer Towns of the State, and Busy Capital of East End.

(By J. G. Claiborne.)

Crab Orchard, the historic town of this section of Kentucky derived its name from the crab apple thickets that formerly covered the home of world-famed and original Crab Orchard Salts which has been the means of introducing the town to thousands of people throughout the land that possibly, otherwise would not know today that such a place existed. Yet, the town itself is deserving of all the praise that it has received at the hands of those who have once visited here and become better acquainted with her genial, wholesome people; the ideal surroundings and the delightful climatic conditions that exists here the year around.

Located in Lincoln county, on the Knoxville branch of the L. & N. railroad, 139 miles south of Cincinnati and 115 from Louisville, it is easily accessible from all points. It is a great summer resort in particular and noted especially for its great variety of mineral waters which have been a boon to many a sufferer, restoring health and vigor to those of impaired health.

Years before the civil war, Crab Orchard was the center of all business of Lincoln county. Men of great wealth and influence resided here, and business was conducted on a large scale. People from the near-by towns would come here when they found it necessary to raise money. It was an influential community in those days as it is today. The first settlers of the state selected the site of this town in preference to all others.
Among the well known and prominent pioneers might be mentioned Humberts, Guests, Roberts, Holmes, Colliers, Stephensons, Penningtons, and others.

The oldest brick house in the state, built by William Whitley, stands today in perfect state of preservation, about 2 miles from town. Col. Whitley was a pioneer, coming to Kentucky from Virginia in the year 1783, and selected the Crab Orchard section as the most desirable in which to live. He soon began the work of erecting his mansion, for it was a mansion in those days, built of the best material and constructed in such unique fashion that it was considered to be impregnable against the attacks of the Indians, who were numerous in the state and section at that time. The walls, ceiling and mantels are all hand-carved and decorated in most elaborate and tasteful manner. The "hidden cellar" is one of the many interesting features of the old house, and was the means of saving many lives from the tomahawk and scalping knife of the red man in those days of adventure.

The hospitality of the old settler was one of his conspicuous characteristics, for everyone in the neighborhood was welcome at all times to his home, and especially did they seek his protection when the word was passed that the Indians were preparing to make a raid. Every man, woman and child would flee to the old Whitley home for safety. From here the red men could be watched and often driven away. But in the event the whites were outnumbered and a massacre seemed inevitable, the hidden cellar was sought and occupied until all danger was over.

The first race track ever built in Kentucky was constructed just across the road from the old Whitley house.
It was known as Sportsmen's Hill.

From Crab Orchard one gets a glimpse in the distance of the blue outlines of the Cumberland mountains. It was through here that Daniel Boone frequently passed; it was here that Raccoon John Smith preached his earliest sermons. Many other notable features are connected with the town.

A more beautiful location for a city could not be found in the whole country; and here it is that nature sends up from the depths of the earth the most healing waters yet discovered by man.

The town has been steadily growing for some years and is a good substantial town, with about four miles of cement side walks, fine streets, two new roads now in course of construction leading to the towns of Brookhead and Stanford. It has a number of stores, all doing a good business and stocked with desirable and up-to-date lines of goods; a flour and meal mill; bottling works and other enterprises that are factors in the development of a town or community.
A new passenger station is being constructed, and which will be completed in about 30 days. It is the home of the Crab Orchard Sanitarium, which is a benefactor to hundreds of people from all parts of the country who are constantly inmates here. There are two churches in the town, Baptist and Christian churches a splendid graded school and everything else to make it an ideal place in which to live and carry on business pursuits. It is situated in the heart of one of the finest agricultural sections of Kentucky, while timber abounds on the hills and mountains close by. The lands could be utilized most profitably for vegetable growing. No better location on the globe could be selected for the establishment of a business college. Other enterprises would thrive here, as the distance to Dix river is less than one half mile.

Here resides some of the best, most hospitable and aristocratic families in the state. It used to be the mecca of hundreds of wealthy southern planters who spent their summers in the village drinking the health giving mineral waters that abound so plentifully, and in such variety—sulphur, iron, magnesia, salts and others of equal medicinal value. They would come with their families and servants in carriages and spend the entire summer.

Crab Orchard offers advantages that few towns can.

If you are looking for a better location—a better town in which to live and engage in business Crab Orchard should appeal to you. The opportunities are here.

Crab Orchard citizens invite you —they will welcome you.

CRAB ORCHARD BANKING CO.

The thrift and influence of a town is invariably indicated by the bank, or banks, that are conducted therein.
No better index can be used in judging the community as one of enterprise and progress or, reversed conditions. In the Crab Orchard Banking Company the town has an enterprise that is all that could be required of a modern banking house. It is solid, it is well managed, it employs all modern facilities and is a credit to the town, as well as its officials.
Starting business in the month of January 1903, it has shown a decided growth ever since, and is patronized exclusively by the citizens throughout the entire section. The personnel of its officers is the very best and they stand high in the estimation of everyone who knows them and have occasion, from time to time, to patronize a banking institution, where every accommodation consistent with sound banking, is extended, and every courtesy granted its patrons.
The capital of this bank is $15,000 with a surplus of $1,500. A notable feature of this bank is that its deposits increased from $50,000 to $70,000 within the last year, a most remarkable showing and which reflects credit on the officials who are at its head.

The officers are: J. H. Collier, president; W. E. Perkins, vice president; H. G. Skiles, cashier and T. H.
Bronaugh, assistant cashier.

The first cashier of this banking corporation was Mr. W. M. Morris, who served faithfully for some time.
He was succeeded by J. C. Bailey, who served satisfactorily until about eighteen months ago when, in turn he was succeeded by the present incumbent, Mr. H. G. Skiles. Mr. Skiles was born in Shelby county and reared in Twen, coming to Crab Orchard in the month of March 1915, and since that time he has been identified with the town's development in every way possible. He is a live, aggressive and esteemed citizen who knows the banking business in its every detail.
And it may be added that it has been largely through his popularity and efficient management that the bank has attained its unprecedented growth in the last twelve months.

This bank is in a flourishing condition and its sound business methods are appreciated by the citizens of the town and community.

CRAB ORCHARD SPRINGS

A recount of the attractions and industries of Crab Orchard would be incomplete without special mention of Crab Orchard Springs, the magnificent hotel and sanitarium, under personal management and direction of Col. J. B. Willis who has been at the head of the company owning and operating this property, for the past 15 years, or more. The town of Crab Orchard has become better known and more widely advertised to the world, through and by this one industry—guests—come here from all parts of the land spending, in the main, the entire summer, drinking the health-giving waters that nature sends forth so abundantly to cure the ills of mankind.

The hotel is conducted on the American plan and its buildings are the largest of the kind in Kentucky.
Its capacity is reckoned at 300; yet many times during the season it has not been an uncommon occurrence to find from 400 to 600 guests registered.

The hotel is a brick structure, costing upwards of $100,000, and buildings with wide balconies extending the full length. Every room has been newly renovated and provided with hot and cold running water and steam heated. Everything has been done to make the stay of guests pleasant, restful and beneficial. Adjoining the spacious hotel grounds is a large farm and model dairy, thus insuring throughout the year a bountiful supply of vegetables and pure milk. The culinary department is as good as can be found in any city.

The hotel and springs are far enough removed from the business and bustle of the town and railroads to make it an ideal restful resort.
Long distance phone, telegraph and express offices are maintained on the premises. A tennis court, swimming pool (70x30 feet), a four-acre lake, 18 feet in depth with pleasure boats for the guest; autoes, saddle horses and every form of exercise and recreation can be had at Crab Orchard Springs. The ball room is one of the finest with music by special orchestra. A special and distinctive feature is the bath department, which is in perfect harmony with the general excellence of the rest of the establishment.

Baths are given under medical supervision by a corps of trained attendants. They consist of Turkish, steam, electric and shower. The medical properties of the waters are unexcelled. There are six springs—American, epsom, salt, sulphur, magnesia and chalybeate waters. Special attention is given guests suffering from rheumatism and the serum treatment has been used with wonderful results. The sulphur and Crab Orchard waters are especially good for all kinds of stomach troubles besides being a general tonic and blood purifier; the field magnesia springs for female trouble. The genuine comforts of this hotel, the curative qualities of nature's own waters, and the pleasures and amusements afforded, tend to make Crab Orchard the ideal spot. The surrounding country is an inspiration to the artist or lover of nature, while the lake attracts those inclined to fishing and boating.

The hotel is open the year around.
For rates, reservations, etc., a letter to Col. J. B. Willis, secretary and treasurer, will receive prompt attention.

LYNE BROS., DRUG STORE

No retail establishment in Crab Orchard stands out more conspicuously for its worth to the community than the drug store of Lyne Bros. It is a credit to the town, and its proprietors, and is being patronized by the citizens to the exclusion of other like enterprises, for its patrons have found that they can always get the best and freshest goods when they come from this firm. The Messrs.

Lyne have been engaged in business in the town for the past 12 years, and by their courteous manners and popularity, coupled with efficiency, they have won a most substantial trade among the best and most particular people of the community. This store is stocked with a complete line of drugs and chemicals of all kinds, as well as proprietary remedies of every description. Here is where the Vinol and Tanlac remedies are sold, as well as the pharmaceutical lines of Wyeth and Parke, Davis & Co.
Messrs. Lyne are both registered pharmacists by examination, and have had long experience in the drug business. They make a specialty of compounding prescriptions, and those who patronize them can rest satisfied that their physician's instructions will be carefully guarded and only the purest and freshest drugs used, something that cannot be said about all men engaged in the drug business.

While brothers in the flesh, and partners in business, yet they are widely separated politically. Mr.
George B. Lyne is an enthusiastic democrat, while Mr. Thos. B. Lyne is a "red hot" republican. The former is a well known and prominent secret order man of Crab Orchard and a corresponding member of the Y. M. C. A. The latter is the "show man" about town. He is always called on to take part in all amateur plays that are gotten up of whatever nature.

Both are exceedingly popular and deserve the success they have attained in business.

DR. W. J. EDMISTON

An institution that is of great worth to the citizens of the Crab Orchard and surrounding section, is Dr. W. J. Edmiston's Sanitarium, successor to the Splitler and Epsom Hill Sanitarium.

Dr. Edmiston is a Lincoln county man, having been born and reared in the town of Crab Orchard. He is, therefore, well known throughout this entire section where he has a score of friends and patients. He is a graduate of the University of Louisville in the practice of materia medica, having received his diploma in the year 1895. Since that time he has practiced his profession continuously making many successful cures as a surgeon and medical practitioner.
A skilled and competent physician is indispensable in any community, and Crab Orchard naturally feels proud of the fact that she raised, educated and graduated from one of the best colleges in the country, a physician and surgeon of Dr. Edmiston's reputation and efficiency. And it may be said without fear of contradiction, that there are few cities in the country that can boast of having as completely equipped a sanitarium, although on a small scale, it may be admitted as the one owned and conducted by Dr. Edmiston. The establishment is equipped for the treatment of all classes of cases suitable to institutional attention, especially those of epilepsy, neurasthenia (or nervousness), asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, rheumatism, cholera and chronic affections of all kinds.
Especial emphasis may be made upon dietetics, baths, massage and other natural methods of relieving diseases without the use of drugs, however, serum treatment is available and also the services of a skilled surgeon when required. The bath department is neat and splendidly equipped and affords baths of every variety, including steam, shower, sitz, tub, needle, percussion, douche, plunge, fillmore douche, affusion and others. In addition to being a medical practitioner, Dr. Edmiston is also a doctor of chiropractic and hydrotherapy. He has met with great success in giving chiropractic adjustments, as there are many cases that cannot be reached through administering drugs. This is where the chiropractic practice come in and is serving so effectively and restoring many to health and vigor after trying all other methods of relief.
Many of his patients have been permanently cured who had given up all hope of ever being well again. Chiropractic is not an experiment, but is a tried and proven science, or profession, that is doing untold good to humanity. Have Dr. Edmiston to give you one of his adjustments, if you are a sufferer of whatever nature, and you will never have occasion to regret it.

Aid The Kidneys

Stanford Sufferers Should Take No

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor—why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a tested remedy is offered them?

used in kidney trouble over 50 years, have been tested in thousands of cases.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, act

Amelia Camden, Preachersville, Stanford, says: "I suffered intensely from kidney complaint and when I stooped, I could hardly straighten.
Dark spots often floated before my eyes and my head pained me until I was almost crazy. A neighbor told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. They helped me from the first and I am now free from kidney complaint."
